About A. Bernette

This former beauty queen from Atlanta has always loved the power of words to transform. After winning the title of Miss Black Georgia Metroplex with the highest score in the personal interview category Bernette went on to be crowned Miss Black International. 2016 marks the 20th anniversary of the first title and although she has long since put up pageantry and the crowns, she's never put down the pen. She spent more than a dozen years in public health and now this forty year old wife, mom, and metaphysician, again shares herself with the world through non-fiction, science-fiction and fantasy stories meant to inspire, transform and entertain.
